

Sparkle Presentations

When your organization is dulled by negativity, stress overload, declining customer service, lack of teamwork or poor communication—Sheryl will raise the bar, create excitement and help make your people SHINE!

Standing Ovation

Meeting Planners Glow about Sheryl's Programs!

"It was clear from the moment your keynote address began that your impact on the participants was going to be positively powerful. It's not often that one observes a group of employees so moved by a trainer that they are both laughing and crying at the conclusion of a program! Your tremendous success was also substantiated by the highly positive evaluation ratings (5.0 out of 5.0) and comments that your session received."

- Stacy Edwards, Training Services Manager, Personnel Commission
Los Angeles Unified School District

"I thought your presentation was wonderful and you really connected with the women - no stirring in the seats; they were quite captivated with you. And what I love about your speaking is that it's not about you - it's all about serving the audience and providing them with the nuggets of truth. You definitely get a sense of grace, encouragement, blessing, and an uplifting message. Your timing is great - you have a great sense of humor."

- Sandy Liarakos, CMP, Director, Scripps Health Foundation

"Your presentation changed the life of several women in the audience. The attendee evaluations picked you #1 speaker!!!!!!!!!!!!!"

- Sheila McDonnell, Producer, Women in Business Symposium

"Sheryl's professionalism and enthusiasm are infectious! Her training has helped bring the management team of the Zoological Society to another level altogether, and we look forward to each new class she brings to our organization. I couldn't endorse her any stronger."

- Tim Mulligan, Dir. of HR, Zoological Society of San Diego

"Your reputation had proceeded you, but I don't think that anybody was prepared for the level of presentation that you provided. You shared tips, hints, and secrets on how WE could become great. The feedback received was one of the best, if not the best, we have ever received."

- Mike Rounds, Technology Expert

"Working with Sheryl is a dream. She fulfills every customer service credo that exists - always going beyond the expected to assist YOU in your planning. Her mind is a non-stop brainstorm of creative ideas that add punch and pizzazz to any event - and all of this in addition to her own outstanding presentation that will have your audience implementing ideas and taking action. Sheryl IS the WOW factor you've been looking for!"

- Marcia Snow, President, Blue Feather Management

"Sheryl is a professional speaker who truly does her homework before presenting to any audience. She was extremely good with wonderful delivery and excellent audience participation."

- Bev Weurding, Event Consultant for Major Health Hospitals
